Prologue

The picturesquely beautiful state of Tripura is characterised by undulating topography with hillocks and dense vegetative cover. The average temperature of Agartala varies from 20°C-22°C in the beginning of the month of February.

The Tripura University: The inception of Tripura University can be traced back to the establishment of UGC recognised Post-graduate Centre of the University of Calcutta at Maharaja Bir Bikram College in the year 1976. In 1987, Tripura University formally came into being as a State University on October 2. In the year 2007, it was converted into a Central University. The University campus is located about 18 km away from the Agartala Airport and 5 km from Agartala Railway Station towards the south.

The Department: The Department of Economics is one of the oldest departments under the Faculty of Arts & Commerce of Tripura University, established in 1978. This is the first department of the University to get University Grants Commission's SAP (DRS-I) and recently has been successfully completed SAP (DRS-II). Presently the Department offers M.A./M.Sc. course, Integrated Master Degree and Ph.D. Degree.

The Indian Econometric Society: The Indian Econometric Society (TIES) is one of the oldest and largest bodies of professional econometricians and quantitative economists with more than 2000 members from all over India and abroad. The society organizes annual conference and organizes different workshops/trainings on econometric techniques and methodology across the nation. The society has its own journal 'Journal of Quantitative Economics' which is published from Springer.

The Conference: The 58th Annual Conference of The Indian Econometric Society will be held at Tripura University (A Central University) during February 22-24, 2024. The Society welcomes research papers for its 58th Annual Conference that fall in the broader area of Quantitative Economics and of both Theoretical and Applied Econometrics.
